Chemistry is the scientific discipline involved with elements and compounds composed of atoms, molecules and ions: their composition, structure, properties, behavior and the changes they undergo during a reaction with other substances. In the scope of its subject, chemistry occupies an intermediate position between physics and biology. It is sometimes called the central science because it ...

Add different salts to water, then watch them dissolve and achieve a dynamic equilibrium with solid precipitate. Compare the number of ions in solution for highly soluble NaCl to other slightly soluble salts. Relate the charges on ions to the number of ions in the formula of a salt. Calculate K_{sp} values.

An experiment is a procedure carried out to support, refute, or validate a hypothesis. Experiments provide insight into cause-and-effect by demonstrating what outcome occurs when a particular factor is manipulated. Experiments vary greatly in goal and scale, but always rely on repeatable procedure and logical analysis of the results.

1. Introduction. Trypsin (E.C.3.4.21.4) is a serine protease commonly used in proteomics for digestion of proteins. However, drawbacks are long digestion times (up to 24 h), auto-digestion sub-products and poor enzyme-to-substrate ratio limiting high-throughput protein identification. To overcome the main problems of in-solution digestion different approaches of enzyme immobilization ...
