I write every day. I wrote (almost) all of the posts on this site and I wrote all of the books in the catalog. I make it a priority to write and dedicate time every single day to replying to blog comments, replying to emails from readers, and to writing and editing tutorials on applied machine learning.

There's certainly something to this. Just not at all the something that's being reported. Even if Trump does not get the nomination, he's in a very different position from Sanders, in that he's emerged as the clear front-runner of the Republican field. Being a Trump supporter right now must feel like being in the middle of a potentially successful revolution.

Amy Tuteur and Sarah Pope both have in common the desire to help people; neither intends to promote ill-health or harm. I think that their views on raw-milk and promoting this as a wholesome food for kids is diametrically opposed, and that sadly both are somewhat stubborn in their approach to the subject.
