The history of photography began in remote antiquity with the discovery of two critical principles; the camera obscura image projection and the observation that some substances are visibly altered by exposure to light. Apart from a possibly photographic but unrecognised process used on the Turin Shroud there are no artefacts or descriptions that indicate any attempt to capture images with ...

Absolutely, have done three workshops with him now. A wild life one where we had fun stalking the animals, a light room workshop, great start up info, so glad I went before going too far down that track and a street photography workshop. I was stepping outside my comfort zone for that one and Matt provided me some challenges on perspective and how we see things : ) read more
