Jumble is a word puzzle with a clue, a drawing illustrating the clue, and a set of words, each of which is "œjumbled" by scrambling its letters. A solver reconstructs the words, and then arranges letters at marked positions in the words to spell the answer phrase to the clue. The clue and illustration always provide hints about the answer phrase.

T9's objective was to make it easier to enter text messages. It allowed words to be formed by a single keypress for each letter, which was an enormous improvement on the multi-tap approach used in conventional mobile phone text entry at the time, in which several letters were associated with each key, and selecting one letter often requires multiple keypresses.
